SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS

SYDNEY G. PIERCE

To the Editors of Nauset Tides:

I am pleased to have an opportunity to express the sense of gratitude that I feel concerning the school yearbook. A considerable quantity of records is kept on the various aspects of the school experience, but the yearbook is the only record provided by the students themselves. Consequently, it reflects, as no other record does, the spirit of our student body.

A good yearbook requires a high level of ability and effort by many people. Much time and energy must be expended in the collecting, editing and arranging of material and in carrying out the business details of this publication. It is both a challenging and a rewarding experience, and I extend sincere congratulations.

Yours very truly, Sydney G. Pierce

We, the graduating class of 1963, would like to take this opportunity to express our sincere thanks to the entire faculty and to our class advisors, Miss Garfield and Mr. Smith.

Throughout these last important months of our high school careers they have guided and advised us when we were uncertain, have encouraged us when we were disheartened, and have done their utmost to prepare us for our various futures. We shall ever remember and be grateful for their patient, untiring efforts on our behalf.

What impressions did you leave at Nauset

CLASS HISTORY

Four years ago we entered the halls of NRHS as the first freshman class in our new school. Along with the usual excitement and anticipation that comes with being a freshman, we were further delighted to see many new faces in the crowd. As soon as we had fallen into the routine of things, we elected our class officers. Vice President Paula was kept quite busy during fishing season when President Stu Moore had urgent business elsewhere. Liz was in charge of keeping our records straight, and our finances were handled by Jimmy Ehrhart (Buck). After elections we began work on our class dance, "Superstition Stomp." That year we also displayed potential talent by winning the One Act Play competition with "Paul Splits the Atom," which really started off with a bang. With Bill as the young chemist, Joyce, his teenage sister, John, the kid brother, and Roger as the father in his first of many roles—how could we lose?

Our sophomore year began with us electing Rickey president, Stevie vice president, Nancy secretary, and Sandy treasurer. This was the year of Miss Hooker's well-known Early Worms, who, with the aid of strong coffee, managed to stay awake long enough to brush up on grammar and punctuation. Among the esteemed members were Molly, Jane, Liz, Nancy, Geri, Stu and Stevie. Needless to say, all were as proud as punch when they received their diplomas. A date memorable in this English class was October 25, which is the anniversary of the Charge of the Light Brigade, The Battle of Agincourt, and the days of the Saints Crispin and Crispinian. This day is always joyously celebrated by having no homework. Invariably, before every test a familiar voice asked about Thomas Chatterton. Tell us, Molly, just who is Thomas Chatterton??? This was the year that our European History class tried to ostracize a certain teacher, and Suzy and Geri compiled a dictionary of Rugged Ed terms. Aren't we glad that Rollie and Jimmy Packett transferred to our school, for they have been such an asset to our athletic teams. Unfortunately, our dramatic attempt was not as successful as the previous year. It's such a shame because Art worked so hard to perfect his song and dance "Button, button—who's got the button?" So endeth our sophomore year.

Our junior year held up under the leadership of Roger as president and Paula as vice president. Geri took the minutes of our meetings and handled the correspondence, while Nancy took our hard-earned money. The biggest event of the year for us was our Junior Prom, "Blue Hawaii," which, with Stevie as our able chairman, was a big success. In preparation for their trip to Plimoth Plantation, Ardath, Betsy, and Patty Williams learned how to dye wool with onion skins, while Tom and Leslie made bowls, ladles, nails and other utensils. How are the rafters holding up, Leslie?? Meanwhile, the chem lab was producing several budding chemists. We never did discover that unknown, did we Connie, but at least we learned how to use the centrifuge. Once again we failed to win the One Act Play Competition although our well-known Romeo, alias Roger, made a valiant attempt.

Finally in the fall of 1962 we entered NRHS as full-fledged seniors. We were thoroughly prepared to relax and take it easy during our last year. This was more easily thought about than done, as we faced more obligations and activities than ever before. First on the agenda were class elections. We elected Cliffy president, Jimmy Packett vice president, John Sparrow secretary, and Betsy Brooks treasurer. This fall was our busiest, with exchanging pictures, being measured for caps and gowns, filing college applications, and preparing for our Senior Prom. On Valentine's Day a certain group of seniors gave all recipients of singing valentines a surprise kiss. This resulted in an epidemic of Valentine kisses, which quickly spread throughout the school. Our exuberance and effervescence is now starting to wear thin, and we have turned to more serious thoughts of graduation and of our futures.

CLASS WILL

I, Peter Andersen, leave my Latin-English dictionary to Dr. Brooks for he needs it more than I.

SENIOR PROM

Early in November the theme "Swiss Chalet" was chosen for the Senior Prom. Following up this theme, the decorating committee, under the able leadership of Suzy Richards and Rickey Edwards, came up with some unique and attractive decorations. At one end of the gym a miniature chalet was erected and furnished with a fireplace, skiis and poles. At the other end stood a Christmas tree complete with lights and tinsel. Decorations on all the walls, plus red and green streamers overhead, lent a holiday air to the scene.

Dancing to the music of "The Drifters" was enjoyed by all.

STUDENT COUNCIL

Perhaps the most important organization at Nauset is the Student Council.

It voices the opinions of the student body and tirelessly works toward its aim of harmony in the school. To obtain this end, the Council aids in the solution of problems concerning the students and their activities. After intelligent discussion and welcomed advice from their advisor, Mr. Guarino, the Council has a decision which it supports as a whole.

This was a busy year for the N.R.S.C. It was host to a well planned and successful State Convention. This honor resulted from the election of Keith VanBuskirk to the position of President of the Massachusetts Association of Student Councils.

As well as the State Convention, the Council provided for and managed a paperback bookstore for use by the students and faculty. With good management and an excellent choice of books, it couldn't help but go off well.

In addition, the Student Council voted to sponsor a scholarship to be given to a qualifying senior. To help finance the project, the Council held record hops after home basketball games on Friday nights.

This year the Council also designed and approved a school jacket. which any member of the school may purchase.

FOURTH ROW: S. Eldredge, R. Hopkins, P. Anderson, K. VanBuskirk, B. Holt, N. Brown, L. Wilcox.

Membership in the National Honor Society is based upon four important things: Scholarship, Leadership, Character, and Service. To qualify for membership, a student must maintain honor grades of A and B for two consecutive marking terms. Having met this requirement, he is then voted on by the faculty on the basis of the other three requirements. As the name of the society implies, all members are indeed honor students in every way.

To the students and faculty of Nauset Regional High School:

We, the editors and staff of Nauset Tides, have tried to make the 1963 edition different and exciting. It has been a long, arduous, and sometimes discouraging task. Nevertheless, when we observe the finished work, I think that we all agree it was well worth the time and effort.

We sincerely hope that you will receive a great deal of enjoyment from this year's Nauset Tides both now and in the years to come.

The Editors and staff of the Nauset Tides
